Biography
Dr. Edward Yardeni

Dr. Ed Yardeni is the President of Yardeni Research, Inc., a provider of independent global investment strategy research. In his publications, Dr. Yardeni explores trends in the economy and financial markets which are vital to a broad spectrum of investment decision makers.

Dr. Yardeni previously served as Chief Investment Strategist for Oak Associates, as Chief Investment Strategist and a Managing Director of Prudential Equity Group, as Chief Investment Strategist for Deutsche Bank, and Chief Economist for C.J. Lawrence, Prudential Securities, and E.F. Hutton.

He taught at Columbia University's Graduate School of Business and was an economist with the Federal Reserve Bank of New York. He also held positions at the Federal Reserve Board of Governors and the U.S. Treasury Department in Washington, D.C.

Dr. Yardeni completed his doctoral dissertation under Professor James Tobin, a Nobel Laureate, at Yale University. Previously, he received a Masters degree in International Relations from Yale. He completed his undergraduate studies magna cum laude at Cornell University.

Dr. Yardeni has published articles in The Wall Street Journal, The Financial Times, The New York Times, and Barron's. He has appeared on numerous television and radio business and financial programs.

Many of the world's top institutional investors subscribe to Dr. Yardeni's investment strategy service, which is available at www.yardeni.com.